

INDIANA PHILOSOPHICAL ASSOCIATION

Fall Meeting

ATHERTON CENTER

BUTLER UNIVERSITY

INDIANAPOLIS

Saturday, October 20, 1951

Morning Session 10:00 o'clock

PSYCHOLOGISTS AND THE SUPERNATURAL

Charles C. Josey Butler University

THE NATURE OF SCIENTIFIC KNOWLEDGE ACCORDING TO RENE DESCARTES

Elie Denissoff University of Notre Dame

SAMUEL ALEXANDER'S THEORY OF BEAUTY, ART, AND AESTHETICS

John W. McCarthy . . . University of Louisville

Luncheon. 12:00 o'clock

Business Meeting. 1:00 o'clock

Afternoon Session 2:00 o'clock

A STUDY IN PLATO'S CONCEPT OF THE GOOD

Harris David Erickson. . . . Evansville College

THE CONCEPT OF MAN AND GOD IN HEIDEGGER'S PHILOSOPHY

Leo Hertel Franklin College

The members of the Junior Association will be present for the reading of the first paper at the afternoon session.

All the meetings of both the Senior Association and the Junior Association as well as the luncheon will take place at Atherton Center.

THE JUNIOR INDIANA PHILOSOPHICAL ASSOCIATION

ANNUAL FALL MEETING

October 20, 1951

Butler University
Indianapolis, Indiana

Morning Session. Saturday, October 20, 10:00 A.M.

1. "Ontological Argument."

Mr. Theodore A. Young, Indiana University.

2. "The Philosophical Implications of the Life and Works of George Bernard Shaw."

Miss Diana Root, DeFauw University.

Luncheon. 12:00 noon.

Afternoon Session. 2:00 P.M.

1. "Sense Cognition in Kant's Critique of Pure Reason."

Rev. James Vincent McGlynn, S.J., West Baden College.

2. "Symbolic Logic, Its Nature and Scope."

Mr. Charles Hebel, DeFauw University.

3. Business Session and Election of Officers.

Due to the propinquity of this meeting to the opening of the school year there was a shortage of time in which to secure papers. Consequently we had to rely on the members of the Senior Division to provide us with papers which were already written. The response of the Senior members was most gratifying. We thank Dr. Hildebrand of DeFauw University, Fr. Vogel of West Baden College and, Dr. Stalknecht of Indiana University, for making this meeting possible.

We extend our heartiest welcome to those who are here today and we profoundly desire that the meeting will increase the scope of the understanding of all those present.

The Executive Committee

Mr. E. M. Cannonito, President

Miss Rita Wokna, Secretary

Dr. E. I. Dyche, Moderator