

The Indiana Philosophical Associations
Spring Meeting--April 19, 1952
Indiana University

Morning session for both senior and junior associations:

Second-floor lounge, the Union Club, 10:00 to 12:00
Topic: James B. Conant's Science and Commonsense
Introductory reviews by--
Duane Roller of Wabash College
John Fitzgerald of the University of Notre Dame

Luncheon for both associations--Room D of the Union Building from 12:30 to 2:00

Afternoon session for the senior association:

Second-floor lounge, the Union Club, 2:00 to 4:00
"The Concept of Juridical Pluralism"
by Joseph Evans of the University of Notre Dame
"Bosanquet on the Concrete Universal"
by Grimsley T. Hobbs of Earlham College
"Five and Twenty Types of Ethical Theory"
by Robert G. Stephens of Indiana University

Afternoon session for the junior association:

Room 306, the Union Building, 2:00 to 4:00

"Is Leisure a Necessary Condition for Philosophy?"--
a discussion led by--
Hughes Cox of Wabash College
Frank Keegan of the University of Notre Dame

"Is Ethics Always a Science?"--
a discussion led by--
Peter Anton of Indiana University
Joseph Lanigan of the University of Notre Dame
Paul McKinney of Wabash College

Please note: Reservations for the luncheon must be mailed by April fifteenth to Robert G. Stephens, 821 South High Street, Bloomington, Indiana. The price of the luncheon is $1.50.