

THE INDIANA PHILOSOPHICAL ASSOCIATION
Fall Meeting, October 29, 1955
WABASH COLLEGE, CRAWFORDSVILLE

Refreshments. 9:30 to 10:00 a.m. (E.S.T.) Campus Center.

Morning Session for both Associations. 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 m. Waugh Hall.

A review of Professor J. Harry Cotton's book, Royce on the Human Self Exposition and critical comments by Grimsley Hobbs, Earlham College
Critical comments by Samuel M. Thompson, Monmouth College
Critical comments by Warren E. Steinkraus, DePauw University

Luncheon for both Associations. 12:30 to 1:15 p.m. ($1.25) Cafeteria.

Business Meeting of the Senior Association. 1:15 to 1:45 p.m. Cafeteria.

Afternoon Session for the Senior Association. 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. Waugh Hall.

"The theory of will and the will to believe in William James" by Walter L. Farrell, West Baden College
"Quine and the categories" by Stuart MacClintock, Indiana University
"Santayana as pragmatist" by Robert E. Frye, Indiana University

Afternoon Session for the Junior Association. 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. Waugh Hall.

"Kant's deduction of the pure concepts of understanding" by Thomas
M. Olszewsky of Wabash College. Winner of the First Prize.
"Historical excursus in modern political philosophy" by Eleanor Lin-berg of Indiana State Teachers College. Winner of the Second Prize.

Members who may have papers ready for reading by the time of the Spring Meeting are strongly urged to speak to the incoming president about them. Remember, too, that graduate students are now eligible to submit papers for the programs of the Senior Association.