

"forming conscious awareness"
as good as dead.

INDIANA PHILOSOPHICAL ASSOCIATION

FALL MEETING -- OCTOBER 28, 1972

Indiana University-Purdue University in Indianapolis
Cavanaugh Hall, Room 509

(One or two copies of the IUPUI campus guide have been sent to each department. Cavanaugh Hall is in the 900 block of West Michigan St., diagonally opposite from the University Hospital.)

- 9:15 a.m. Coffee in the Faculty Lounge
- 10:00 a.m. "The Media of Philosophy"
A Symposium on the Media and the Methods of Teaching Philosophy to Undergraduates

Edmund Byrne, IUPUI
Eric Dean, Wabash College
- 11:30 a.m. Luncheon in the Student Center (no reservations necessary)
- 1:00 p.m. Business Meeting

President Len Clark, Earlham College
- 1:30 p.m. "Freedom and Faithfulness in Whitehead's God"

Delwin Brown, Anderson College

(This paper considers the question whether God is a single actual entity or a society of actual entities; it argues for the latter view partly on the grounds that it more adequately interprets the religious experience of the faithfulness of God.)
- 2:45 p.m. Coffee
- 3:00 p.m. "A Defense of Ethical Naturalism"

Clark Butler, Purdue University, Fort Wayne

(A proposal is made to define "ought" in terms of the agent's ultimate standard of choice; it is argued that this definition escapes the standard arguments (put forward by Moore, Hare, et al) against ethical naturalism.)

"Technology of Interpretation"
Is not all aesthetic merely like this?

understand =
"just"