

Indiana Philosophical Association

Fall Meeting

Franklin College
Franklin, Indiana

November 6, 1993

Schedule:

- |              |                                                                                                                           |
|--------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 9:30 - 10:00 | Coffee, etc.                                                                                                              |
| 10:00-11:00  | "Are There Indirect Speech Acts?" by Rod Bertolet, Purdue University                                                      |
| 11:00-12:00  | "The Individual as Object of Love In Vlastos: Individuals vs. Individuality" by Catherine Ludlum, Indiana University East |
| 12:00-1:30   | Lunch                                                                                                                     |
| 1:30-2:00    | IPA business meeting                                                                                                      |
| 2:00-3:00    | "Five Principles of Logical Form" by Gary N. Curtis, Indiana State University                                             |
| 3:00-4:00    | "The Primacy of Ethics: Hobbes and Levinas" by Cheryl L. Hughes, Wabash College                                           |